The argument of the Hon. B. F. Moore on the question of the gauge, and the rights of a state to define and carry out its own policy have never been met or answered. They were not met or answered by the arguments of counsel before Judge Schenck, nor were they covered by the decision of that functionary. The only question fairly embraced in his opinion was that of the validity of the enactment of the Legislature.

The Supreme Court had previously decided that as the State had declared no policy, therefore the lessees of the N. C. R. R. were not restrained in altering the gauge from Greensboro to Charlotte, which was all they professed to want. But the court did not deny that the State might define a policy. Mr. Moore has proved that it can rightfully and legally do so, and the Legislature did define that policy. If they were behind hand in making the law applicable to the change between Greensboro and Charlotte—and that is open to doubt—its enactment is clearly applicable to other portions of the road and to other roads.

The lessees acting hastily upon the decision of Judge Schenck, have at once asserted their independence of North Carolina legislation. They have challenged in the boldest way both legislative and judicial right and power, and at present they are victors. Those who should move to counteract these movements and to maintain the dignity of the law, are silent for the present. In deference to them, and unwilling to believe that they need to be reminded of their duty, we have forbore to urge a subject which becomes tiresome by continued agitation. We suppose they will act at the proper time and in the proper way.

A ROYAL ROAD TO THE BAR.
An ancient sage was once charged with the education of a son of royalty. The young gentleman, appalled at the labor of mastering the mathematics and accustomed to have things made easy for him, asked his instructor to have his path to knowledge smoothed away. A very concise and matter of fact answer was given. "There is no royal road to learning."

What the son of a King could not find, has been easily attained by the negro in these halcyon days of the African. The gates of the Temple of learning lay back on their hinges to invite his easy and careless entrance. The paths leading to it are strewn with flowers and all the forbidding features of access are carefully concealed by the drapery of luxurious ornament. The Temple of Fame no longer frowns from its accessible height. The forbidding inscription "Oh! who can tell how hard it is to climb &c." has disappeared, and the Goddess of the Temple emerges from her sacred seclusion to meet the indolent aspirant for her favors.

It is stated on what appears to be good authority, that at the recent examination of Candidates for license by the Supreme Court, two colored applicants were admitted to practice who failed to answer correctly a single question, and one of the Court being asked why these were admitted, when a young white applicant was put back, replied, "Oh! these are colored men, and if we had rejected them, it would have been said that the Court was influenced by prejudices of race and color."

So it seems that all that is necessary to disarm the court of its terrors, is to appear in the proper color. The favored tints of Africa are an "open sesame" to the portals of the bar. Nor learning, nor character are required, only the right complexion.

THE RADICAL PROGRAMME.
The leaders of the Republican party have steadfastly opposed any changes in the Constitution of 1868. The Legislative amendments proposed at the session of 1870 were cut down from 30 to 8, and these eight were passed by the required majority only by the independence and liberality of a few of the party, more faithful to the State than to party. The same independence drew to the support of the Act of the last Legislature a few who did see real good and patriotic purpose in the action of the Democrats.

But the party as an organization has been and is still opposed to all reform though admitted by some of the best and wisest in its ranks to be indispensable to the welfare of the State. Love of power, lust of office, hatred to the opposition, impel the leaders of the Republicans in the State to resistance to the measure, and to defeat the will of the people, even to the extent, if they could effect it, of bringing in the power of the General Government to repress the free action of the people of North Carolina. Finding the Government ready to leave the State to the management of its own affairs, these leaders now resort to secret conspiracy and covert plans. In secret convalesce, they have cut out a plan of action, and then undertake to carry it out as if it were the spontaneous note of the popular voice, where in fact it is the unseemly note of a few republican editors.

Let the people read their programme, and see how much of lawlessness, of double dealing, of selfishness, and of party tyranny is embraced in the plan to fetter the action of the people and maintain the supremacy of the radical party.

NOON DISPATCHES.

Spanish Affairs.
LONDON, June 9.—The Paris correspondent of the Times, alluding to the reunion of Republican movement in Madrid, says those who are waiting the course of affairs in Spain are satisfied that the Alfonso Government is apprehensive. They assert that the Spanish Ambassador at Paris has renewed his complaints relative to the tolerance of Carlists on the frontier, and has warmly protested against the ostensible charity fairs, the real object of which is to raise money in Paris for the Carlists. It is supposed that France will pay less attention to these complaints than formerly, as Germany at present takes slight interest in the cause of King Alfonso, whose government is too weak to pursue a course agreeable to Germany. Competent authority—an attaché of the Spanish embassy in Paris—officially reports that the good soldiers must be equal in number of second rates, and will continue to be victorious so long as the war is conducted as at present. A dispatch from Vienna says the press there disapproves the Spanish Government's attitude of indifference to the Carlist cause, and that three hundred thousand florins to Don Carlos.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

FROM NEW YORK.

The Beecher Trial—Court Room Crowded—Mr. Beach Delivering the Closing Address, &c.
NEW YORK, June 9.—The Brooklyn city court room was packed this A. M. with spectators as it had never before during the trial. The entrance of Mr. Beach, who was to deliver the closing address, was the signal for a storm of applause, which was with difficulty checked by the court and officers. Judge Fulton arrived shortly after and received a similar ovation. The friends of the plaintiff were mustered in strong force and scarcely a vacant space was to be found at the rear of the courtroom and the audience to preserve the utmost silence.

Mr. Beecher then rose and said that at last Theodore Tilton had an opportunity to be heard in a Court of justice after having been overcome with calumnies. At the church investigation every one saw that Tilton and his witnesses were shut out from hearing and that the wonder that the public clamor demanded justice should be done to him in this unfortunate transaction. At this point Beecher and his wife came into the room and took their usual places in the Plymouth throng.

A Decision Making Benevolent and Charitable Institutions Liable to Taxation.

CINCINNATI, June 9.—By a recent decision of the Supreme Court, the funds belonging to benevolent societies have been declared subject to taxation. FROM WASHINGTON.

That $47,000 Business—Rumored changes in the Treasurer's office and in the Internal Revenue office.
WASHINGTON, June 9.—There is no truth in the report of the additional twenty thousand irregularity in the Treasury. Spinner adheres to the hope that the forty seven thousand package will be recovered unless the notes are destroyed, and he does not credit the theory that a visitor stole the package. The Treasurer is expected to reach here to-morrow. It is estimated that he will make some changes in the Treasurer's office on the first Inst. several important changes are also expected in the Internal Revenue office on the first of July.

Senator Morton had a lengthy consultation with Attorney General Pierpont to-day. The President has proclaimed the treaty for the extradition of criminals fugitives from justice between the U. S. and the Ottoman Empire. The treaty does not apply to any criminal offense of a political character and neither of the contracting parties is bound to deliver up its own citizens. Genl. Joseph D. Webster has been appointed Collector of Internal Revenue for Chicago.

Death of an Editor.

LANCASTER, June 9.—Edmond McKelvie one of the Editors and proprietor of the Lancaster Daily and Weekly Examiner, died this morning from heart disease.

An incident in a new play is quoted as very French in its morality.

A gentleman in love with an actress. He calls on the manager of the theatre; he pleads his love for an introduction. The lady's name is Mariette. "But," says the manager, "I saw you with a lady in your box last night—a charming woman, my friend, a lovely woman, to whom you paid much attention." "That was my wife," responded the lover, indignantly, "do you think I would be untrue to Mariette?"
